

HComp-NL / SIKS Symposium: "Data Science with Humans in the Loop"

14-15 September 2017 @ VU Amsterdam

On 14-15 September 2017, the Human Computation Community in the Netherlands (HComp-NL), supported by 4TU-NIRICT, in cooperation with SIKS is organizing a series of events at the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, in conjunction with the inaugural lecture of prof. dr. Lora Aroyo entitled "Data Science with Humans in the Loop". You are cordially invited to participate in all of them. Especially SIKS-PhD-students working on the topics of the event are strongly encouraged to sign in. Below you can find the detailed program and locations.

Inaugural lecture, prof. dr. Lora Aroyo

Location: Aula, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam

Address: De Boelelaan 1105

Day: Friday 15 September

Time: 15:45

The inaugural lecture will be preceded by a two-part symposium, also held at the VU University:

HComp-NL / SIKS Symposium Part I: Tutorial session in the field of Human Computation

This session is specifically aimed at PhD students and postdocs and will provide practical experiences on how various forms of crowdsourcing, nichesourcing, human computation and citizen science can help gather, harness and capture human knowledge at scale and thus ultimately improve machine-based systems.

Location: IntertainLab, FEW Building, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, De Boelelaan 1081

Day: Thursday 14 September

Time: 14:30 - 17:30

HComp-NL / SIKS Symposium II: Symposium with invited talks

This session of the symposium will present a number of international researchers from academia and industry all working in different fields of human computation and user-generated content

Location: C659, FEW Building, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, De Boelelaan 1081

Day: Friday 15 September

Time: 11:30 - 13:30

11:30 - 12:00 Elena Simperl, University of Southampton

12:00 - 12:30 Alessandro Bozzon, TU Delft

12:30 - 13:00 Zoltán Szlávik, IBM Benelux

13:00 - 13:30 Chris Welty, Google Research
